HEAD QUARTERS OF THE NORTH CAROLINA DELEGATES.

Hon. D. M. Barringer, Chairman of the State Executive Committee, has secured accommodations at the "Carroll House" for the North Carolina Delegates to the National Democratic Convention, which meets in Baltimore on the 9th of July.

DR. BRATTON TO BE RETURNED.

There is great excitement in Canada, in regard to the kidnapping of Dr. Bratton on British soil, by Hester and Cornell. The newspapers there continue to denounce the outrage in the severest terms, and the Canada Government is terribly excited about the matter.

The charge against Hester and Cornell is that they forcibly abducted an American citizen, who was at the time sojourning in Canada, in violation of the extradition Treaty.

In a dispatch from Washington City to the New York Herald, about the Canadian abduction case, we find the following statement:

"The Department of Justice has for some days past been engaged in finding the whereabouts of the person alleged to have been abducted from Canada in violation of the Extradition Treaty, and yesterday received information that he was in the custody of the United States Marshall of North Carolina. It now appears that Detective Hester had an extradition warrant for a man named Avery, charged with violation of the Ku Klux act, but that the Canadian officials delivered up Bratton, who is also charged with having committed murder in that State. Our government will send him back to Canada without delay and indemnify him for the false arrest."

Hester had no extradition warrant for the arrest of Dr. Bratton, but if the accounts in the Canadian papers be true, Bratton was waylaid, knocked down, chloroformed, and taken to Michigan in an insensible condition, where a warrant was then procured for his arrest.

The New York Herald, commenting on the matter, says:

"It now appears that Bratton has been discovered in the custody of the North Carolina United States Marshal. A regular extradition warrant had been secured for the capture of a man named Avery. The Canadian officials delivered up Bratton, and hence the mistake. Bratton will be indemnified and returned to Canada, and so ends the matter."

The Herald is evidently mistaken. The Canadian officials did not deliver up Bratton by mistake. Bratton was knocked down by the detectives, and no warrant was procured for his arrest until he reached American soil. If Bratton was arrested by mistake for Avery, what was the use of procuring another warrant after reaching Michigan? The detectives already had an extradition warrant applied for. Why was Bratton released as soon as the mistake was discovered?

The matter will not end as the Herald suggests, by indemnifying Bratton and by his return to Canada.

The British Government demands that Hester and Cornell also be turned over to the Canadian authorities for punishment. And to the demand the United States Government will be bound to yield.

VANCE IN THE EAST.

We call upon our readers in the sections where Governor Vance has made appointments to speak, to give us much publicity as possible to the announcements. The time for some of the appointments is short, and we would suggest to our friends the propriety of taking extra steps to let the public know the time and places of the meetings.

Judge Merrimon's tour in the East has been productive of the happiest effects. His able and unanswerable arguments in opposition to the Radical party have been of vast service in opening the eyes of the people to the dangers which threaten them.

We are confident that Gov. Vance's efforts will enkindle great enthusiasm and nerve our people to renewed efforts to do their duty in the State election.

Let the people turn out en masse to hear Vance. We are sure however, that no appeal to them to do so is needed. Only let them know that Vance is to speak, and they will be on hand sure.

We have sent out a number of circulars to our friends in the localities mentioned in the list of appointments, which they will please distribute.

STUBBORN FACTS.

We have published from time to time through our columns, facts and figures, taken from the records and the Auditor's office to show that the Radical party is a party of gross and criminal extravagance.

That party while it was in power, from 1868 to 1870, plunged the State of North Carolina into a new debt of Fifteen Millions of Dollars.

During the administration of that party, millions after millions of our State bonds were stolen by prominent Radical officials, and the credit of the State has been brought to the very lowest ebb.

That party for the year 1869-'70, cost the State of North Carolina Five Hundred and Seventy-Five Thousand, Two Hundred and Fourteen Dollars and Ten Cents more to carry on the State Government than the subsequent Democratic Legislature.

The per diem and mileage of the last Radical Legislature cost the State of North Carolina Two Hundred and Thirty-One Thousand Four Hundred and Fifty-Six Dollars and Twenty-three cents more than the per diem and mileage of the last Democratic Legislature.

Keep these facts before the people!

Families in Maine are sending to Sweden for servant girls.

OLD ISSUES.

The New North State, a Radical paper published at Greensboro, attempts to convict the Democratic party of inconsistency because our speakers and papers denounce Caldwell for attempting to revive old issues of secession and war.

The New North State says that inasmuch as the Democrats have revived the issues of the Kirk war of 1870, the Republicans have the right to resurrect the questions of secession and the late war.

This is a fair sample of Radical logic.

If the Democratic Convention at Greensboro, by solemn resolution, had made the war and secession living issues, then there would be some force and reason in the position of the New North State.

The Democratic party, by express language, has accepted the results of the war and has acquiesced in the last amendments to the Constitution of the United States.

How stands it with the Radical party?

The Radical State Convention which nominated Caldwell for Governor, endorsed the administration of Governor Holden, particularly his acts in 1869-'70, thus by its own acts, making the Kirk war a living issue of the present campaign.

By solemn resolution, the Radical Convention of 1872 placed itself squarely and unequivocally on the Kirk platform, and on that platform it shall stand until the first Thursday in August.

The Radicals may squirm and twist as much as they please, but they cannot escape the fatal consequences of having publicly and solemnly approved of the past course of Gov. Holden, including his WAR UPON THE PEOPLE OF NORTH CAROLINA.

THE FIFTH AVENUE CONFERENCE.

The Fifth Avenue Hotel Conference in New York adjourned on the morning of the 21st without taking any action against Greeley. The speeches of Messrs. Trumbull and Schurz settled the matter that it was now too late to draw Greeley.

Afterwards, as it is called in our Saturday's telegram, a supplementary conference was held by a few of the disaffected who had been invited to the original meeting, and these refractory delegates nominated William S. Groesbeck, of Ohio, for President and William Law Olmstead of New York, for Vice President. This movement will not amount to much.

The Schurz meeting has pretty well decided the matter that Greeley will have no organized opposition outside of the Radical party.

Among the delegates present from the South, were Hon. B. H. Hill, of Georgia, Governor Walker, Virginia, Hon. John Forsyth, of Alabama, Col. William Grosvenor, of Missouri, and Gov. Graham and Daniel R. Goodloe, of North Carolina.

The result of this conference will be to strengthen Greeley. Schurz and other Liberal Republicans, who have been quiet since the Cincinnati Convention, will now no doubt go actively to work for him, and we shall expect to see the disaffection among the Germans towards Greeley gradually dying out.

It only remains for the Democratic Convention at Baltimore to respond to the general sentiment of the party as expressed in the State Conventions recently held.

Only one State, Delaware, has appointed Delegates in favor of a straight Democratic ticket. Most of the others thus far held have either endorsed the Cincinnati platform and candidates, or elected a majority of Delegates opposed to the nomination of a third ticket.

We consider, then, the matter is settled that Mr. Greeley will not be withdrawn, but that the Presidential contest will be between Greeley and Grant.

FROM THE WEST.

We conversed with a gentleman yesterday who has just returned from a visit to the mountains. He was present at the discussion in Morganton between Gen. Clingman and Major Erwin. He says Gen. Clingman got decidedly the best of the argument—that Erwin could not answer the arguments of his opponent, but indulged in anecdote and witticism. Our informant states Gen. Clingman is taking a very active part in the canvass and that his speeches are doing good.

We learn that our friends are confident of increasing the Democratic majority of 1870 west of the Blue Ridge. They are very sanguine of carrying the extreme Western counties, almost without exception. That we will make considerable gains in the West we have every reason to believe.

GEN. HILL.

In alluding a few days since, to the fact that Gen. D. H. Hill had assumed editorial charge of the Charlotte Dispatch, the following sentence was "set up" improperly, and therefore we insert it as written by us: "The hero of Boonsboro and South Mountain has exhibited a grace and power in the use of the pen, equal to the skill and valor with which he wielded the sword in defence of the honor and institutions of the South."

PARIS IN MATAMOROS.—The Herald's special, dated Matamoras, the 14th inst., says:

Dispatches reached here last night from Matamoras that General Corella arrived in this city with a few men—a small remnant of his army, which was completely destroyed by the revolutionists under Trevino. The telegraph line between Matamoras and Mexico was cut to-day by the revolutionary forces.

The greatest excitement prevails among the inhabitants and the government troops in the city. The National Guard is being reorganized, the work on the fortifications has recommenced, and the ferry restrictions between Matamoras and Brownsville have been reestablished. The Jarez authorities are seizing all the private arms they can find and endeavoring to purchase others. Three hundred pieces of arms will be sent to General Corella to-morrow, under escort of a portion of the National Guard.

NORTH CAROLINA AT BALTIMORE.—This quiet and worthy old State will have her best men at the National Democratic Convention. From the State at large we see such names as Gen. A. M. Scales, an officer in the Confederate service and former member of Congress; Major J. A. Engelhard, one of the leading Democratic editors of the South; Henry G. Williams, Esq., one of the ablest politicians in the State; the Hon. John Manning, an ex-M. C. From the Congress districts there are ex-Gov. Z. B. Vance, U. S. Senator Thomas L. Clingman, ex-Minister to Spain Daniel M. Barringer. These are men of national reputation. Others less prominent, but having a State influence, are Col. E. D. Hall, R. F. Armfield, and Thomas S. Kenan. This delegation goes unopposed, but it is understood to be favorable to the endorsement of the Cincinnati nominees.

Report of the Committee.

JUNE 21, 1872.

To the Executive Committee of the Wesleyan Male Academy, Raleigh, N. C.

As Examining Committee, we take pleasure in reporting, that we attended by request the examination of the classes, by Rev. S. R. Trawick, your Principal, during the 3rd, 4th, 5th and 6th of June, and also witnessed the Declamatory Exercises at Metropolitan Hall. The students showed faithful and successful training, both in the English and in the Classical Studies. The Declaration was as good as we have ever heard for the age of the students and the time undergoing.

We are highly gratified at the conscientious care and thoroughness shown by the Principal, as well as the evident merit and success of the school.

Our friends throughout the State will place us under obligations if they will furnish us with any items of news that may transpire in their respective sections, as we desire to make this department specially full.

Love's Delirium—A Young Lady of Nineteen Poisons Herself.

A Pittsburg, (Pa.) letter of the 5th inst. gives the following particulars of a suicide at that place:

Last night a young and beautiful girl about nineteen years of age, named Emily Linnberger, arrived at the Union Depot Hotel, and registered her name as being from Baltimore. She was attired in a handsomely made traveling dress, and wearing a jaunty hat, richly trimmed, and accompanied by a gentleman, who, when she had been assigned to her room, bade her good evening and retired, remarking that he had met her on the cars and had merely attended her to the hotel as an act of politeness to a lady travelling alone. She went to her room, and had her trunk opened; there was nothing unusual in her appearance or any of her surroundings. About three o'clock this morning a servant heard heavy, labored breathing in the room occupied by the young lady, and the forced respiration continuing, the door was at length forced open. There the young traveller lay upon the bed, near by a phial containing a small quantity of morphia, and a physician states that, judging from the size of the bottle, the girl must have taken enough of the drug to have made over thirty ordinary doses. Of course there was not, under the circumstance, the remotest hope of relieving her from its effects, and within two hours from this time it was found she had passed, in a state of stupor, into the realm of death.

Why she committed the fatal act is plainly developed by sundry sentences entered in a note-book which was found in her person. Many of these acknowledged the receipt of valuable presents from Fred Pitt, who was theatrical agent for Madame Januscheck, with whose party Miss Linnberger is supposed to have travelled. Among other entries which throw light on this sad ending of what should have been a bright young life are the following, all written on leaves of the note-book referred to, and evidently penned more as part of a diary than with the intention of sending them to any particular address:

Emilie's diary and bequest. I have come to rest; you shall never see me again, for I am in a happier land than you. I could not live any longer, for I could die of grief to know that I love a man that does not love me, and so I had to make an end with me. Better to die quiet than to die for grief and trouble. You will never see me again in this world, but you will see me in another world, and that world is heaven. Keep this as a secret, and let never any one at all get this book, for this little book and keep it if you will to stand observe a dead person's wish; so keep this little book. I will kiss you a thousand times. Goodbye. God bless you and Madame. Hoping you will live happier together, and will always remember a poor sinner like me. EMILIE.

Then on another page—probably written but a few short moments before she concluded to take poison—are written the following sentences:—
I took my life on this 5th day of June, 1872, for the man I love, I love a dear man and nobody can tear him from me, and this man is Mr. Fred Pitt.

The Assistant Coroner took charge of the body. It is thought from memoranda in the note-book that she has friends in St. Louis.

Some forty dollars were found in the trunk, also some very fine jewelry and a fashionable, costly watch.

THE LEBERSBURG POISONING CASE.—The Leeburg, (Va.) Mirror says that on Monday next the Lloyd poisoning case will be laid before the grand jury. Should an indictment follow, it is thought that Mrs. Lloyd's counsel will move for a transfer of the case to the Circuit Court, which meets in October. The object, adds the Mirror, which the experts had in the late exhumation of the children was to secure other portions of the body of the two little girls, for the double purpose of more fully satisfying themselves of the presence of poison, and to supply any omission that might be supposed to exist in the chain of testimony, occasioned by the death of Recorder Bentley, who had charge of the stomach of Maud from the time of the inquest by the jury until it was placed in the hands of Professor Torrey.

J. Henry Burch, a colored delegate from Louisiana, now in Philadelphia, who has been interviewed, says: "War-moth, who leads the Greeley interest there has been nominated for Governor, with Pinchback for Lieutenant Governor, which virtually places the State in the possession of the Greeley party. Lieutenant Governor Pinchback has a strength of a personal character that is not to be ignored."

Senator Beverly Nash, of South Carolina, one of the delegates from that State to the Philadelphia Convention, in a speech to Columbia (S. C.) Republican club, colored, on the 27th ult., told them, the Republican party must be sustained, if at cost the life of every so-called land owner in the country.

OUR MURFREESBORO LETTER.

MURFREESBORO, N. C., June 20th, 1872.

Dear News:

As intimated in my last letter, the Murfreesboro District Conference of the M. E. Church began its session here last Friday morning. The attendance, contrary to the expectation of our Methodist friends was small, many of the Circuit riders being unrepresented. Prominent among the ministers of the District, we mention Starr, Lambeth and Whitehead. The first mentioned is a general favorite here, and his reception by his Church, almost amounts to an ovation. We had never seen Mr. Lambeth before, but during the Conference we heard him preach two sermons which showed much thought and fine historical powers. He is in charge of the Church at Elizabeth City, and is said to be a fine pastor. John R. Kilby, of Suffolk, Va., Dr. Copeland, of Jackson, and our friend Yeates, of this place were the more prominent of the lay delegates. We think it rather an unfortunate thing that this portion of North Carolina belongs to the Virginia Conference, for by this unnatural division the Methodists of this section take little or no interest in the affairs of the North Carolina Conference. The deliberations of the Conference were marked with great harmony and good feeling. Diversity of opinion prevailed, but there was no disposition on the part of any to disturb the good feeling of the meeting. The next session is to be held with the church at Hertford, Perquimans county—the time to be fixed by the presiding elder, J. J. Yeates. Dr. Copeland, A. S. Jordan, W. H. Grant, were elected lay delegates to the next annual session of the Virginia Conference.

The exercises of the Western Female College, Rev. J. Henry Smith of Greensboro, N. C. delivered on Tuesday at 11 o'clock the annual address to a deeply interested audience. Having heard his gentleman three years ago the "Importance of little things," we were prepared to expect something good from him and were not disappointed. Many of our readers know him better than we do, and all of them will, no doubt, agree with us in saying that he is a capital speaker. We shall not attempt an analysis of his address, but content ourselves with saying that it was a forcible, chaste and thoughtful delineation of the characteristics of a true woman. His main object was to impress upon his audience the importance of home influence, and to place woman as she deserves to be, at the centre of that influence.

The commencement exercises proper on Wednesday were rather thinly attended, but quite a number came in the evening, making the attendance at the concert very respectable. There were eight graduates, and of course we are too glad to say anything else than that all did well. Of one thing we can assure the bachelor editors of the News, and that is, they all looked very lovely. Knowing the crowded state of your columns, we could not ask you to publish the programme, and have not forwarded one. At night the chapel was crowded to hear the annual concert, and many showed their appreciation by sitting several hours to listen at the music. The girls were their sweetest dresses as well as smiles, and the young men did their very best to make an impression. Among the visitors we noticed Dr. Duncanson, his brother W. W. Duncanson, and Rev. R. N. Stead, Rev. W. W. Duncanson delivered on Tuesday night an excellent address, on the advantages of a thorough College, in which we were pleased to hear put in a plea for the study of the ancient languages.

We learn that there will be several changes in the Faculty of the Institution, at least three of those now present retiring, their places to be supplied by others. Jim Sharpe, Radical candidate, was in attendance on the commencement exercises, and has gone away, we think with the impression that Murfreesboro is a hard place on which to ride. He is reported as having boasted that he, by Sam Carrow's advice, intends to import negroes from Bertie to carry the election in this county. "Forewarned is to be forearmed" and our friends will be apt to watch out for him and his importations. One of the most reliable gentlemen in the county tells us that he said, no longer than yesterday, that he intended to advise his friends, the negroes, to go to the places of speaking heavily armed. What shall be thought of a man whose heart is black enough to wish to bring about a conflict between the races at this time?

Mr. Yeates, one of the Senatorial candidates, leaves for Edenton next Monday to make some arrangements concerning the campaign. He will enter upon the work very soon, and will be in the field until the day of election. Chamberlain, late Conservative member of the Legislature from Camden, and his friend Grandy, will find that they have a foe more than worthy of their steel when they meet Yeates. HERTFORD.

The Arrival of Twenty-Three South Carolinians Consigned to the Albany Penitentiary. The ship Champion, from Charleston, arrived at Pier 29, North river, last night, having on board twenty-three Klu Klux prisoners. Among them are gray-haired men and beardless boys; strong men and cripples. They were under guard of United States soldiers, and on their way to the Albany Penitentiary to serve out a term of imprisonment. All of them professed to be farmers or laboring men, and their summed faces and hardened hands gave proof of it.

The terms of imprisonment are: three for 10 years and $1,000 fine; six, 8 years and $100 fine; two, 4 years and $100 fine; one, 4 years and $500 fine; three, 3 years and $100 fine; four, 2 years and $100 fine; three, a year and a half and $100 fine; and one, 1 year $100 fine.

All of these men lived in York county, South Carolina, one of the nine counties in which martial law was declared last October. Some of them have already been imprisoned for months. A New York reporter went on board the Champion, and found the prisoners crowded away, between decks in the fore part of the ship. No air circulated through the place, and the thermometer indicated ninety-eight degrees. They are rough-looking men, haggard and tattered, but have not a vicious look. The reporter's questions were promptly answered, and many of the men with much intelligence. They said they had been arrested "for belonging to the order." A gray haired man told the following story:

When martial law was declared last October, no outrages had been committed for a year, and none since, in our county at least. But the military authorities have been making arrests for the past eight months. The prisoners are taken before Judge Bond, in the United States Circuit Court, and the charges are alike in all cases. They are accused of being, or having been, members of the Ku Klux, and are told that this can be proven by members of the band who are witnesses for the prosecution, and advised to plead guilty to mitigate their punishment.

Knowing how useless resistance is, the poor wretches plead guilty to avoid a severe penalty. Thus, twenty-two of these men are suffering the penalties of convicts through fear, and not from any evidence of their crime. One man of fifty years approached the reporter and said vehemently: "I did not plead guilty. I am not guilty, and I would not make such a confession for the world. They tried me on two charges, but no evidence was adduced to convict me. Yet it was meant that I should be punished, and they gave me two years. Two years for being an American citizen unfortunate enough to live in South Carolina! I am not and never was a Ku Klux—what ever that may be—and have always been a peaceable, law-abiding citizen. I go to prison an innocent man, but the hardest criminal never left his prison with a worse heart than I shall leave mine. If my life is spared, this indignity shall be avenged."

The men complained bitterly of being sent North for confinement. They thought it bad enough to be summarily tried, and unjustly convicted, without being taken so far from home, and where their friends cannot visit them. They are to remain in prison until the fines are paid. Some of them are without money, or friends that have means, and they see no limit to their incarceration.

The reporter said to one, "How will you pay your fine?" "By death," was the answer. He was a cripple, pale, and emaciated, and evidently rapidly falling away through the ravages of a hidden disease. Death no doubt will pay his fine, and cheat the prison of a tenant. At 8 o'clock the men were put into a car and taken to the Grand Central Depot, and they embarked for Albany on the 8 o'clock train.—N. Y. Sun.

FOR SALE.

VALUABLE LAND FOR SALE IN THE COUNTY OF WARREN.

I offer for sale, five hundred and two (502) acres of land, situated in the county of Warren, on Shocco Creek, adjoining the property of Col. J. M. Clark, on both sides of the Turnpike Road, leading from the Sulphur Springs to the town of Shocco, on the Raleigh & Gaston Railroad, and nine miles from the latter place. There is an Overlook of the tract in its original growth of oak, hickory, etc., one-half in second growth pines. The soil is sandy, loam and chocolate-surface undulating—well watered, and about 100 acres of bottom land. It yields excellent crops of corn, tobacco, wheat, oats, clover, &c. This is one of the best tracts of land in this section, and will be sold on reasonable terms.

Dr. George Fields, who resides near the land, will take pleasure in showing it to persons wishing to examine it, and is authorized to negotiate for its sale.

SPECIAL FEATURES AND ADVANTAGES.

1st. No restriction on Residence or Travel.

2d. No extra charge on lives of Females.

3d. Policies incontestable after Five Years.

4th. The rates of Interest on the Funds of the Company are higher than those on the Funds of Companies located in other States, thus insuring larger Dividends to Policy Holders.

5th. The Directors and Officers of the Company are prominent NORTH CAROLINIANS, who are known to be men of INTEGRITY and WORTH.

6th. The Company is established on a solid and permanent basis, steps having been taken to increase the Capital Stock to $200,000.

7th. ALL THE FUNDS OF THE COMPANY ARE INVESTED IN THIS STATE AND CIRCULATED AMONG OUR OWN PEOPLE. This fact should commend the Company, above all others, to North Carolinians. It is well known that hundreds of thousands of Dollars in Life Premiums are annually sent North to enrich Northern Capitalists, thus continually draining our people of immense amounts which should be kept at home. On this ground the friends of this Company confidently appeal to every son of the Old North State, and ask their support for this HOME INSURANCE, which, while it offers substantially all the advantages of Northern Companies, helps to build up HOME INTERESTS.

A BURLESQUE OF MRS. BROWNING.

In "Fly Leaves," a volume of verse by C. S. Calverley, soon to be published in the "Laurie's Series" of Holt & Williams, there will be found the following "Burlesque," which is "a parody" on the famous Mrs. Browning. The best English critics tell us that no such amusing parodies have appeared since the "Rejected Addresses."

BALLAD.
The child wife sat at her ivory door,
(Butter and eggs and a pound of cheese.)
A thing she had frequently done before,
And her spectacles lay on her apron knee.

The piper he piped on the hill-top high,
(Butter and eggs and a pound of cheese.)
Till the cow said "I die," and the goose asked "Why?"
And the dog said nothing, but searched for fleas.

The farmer he strode through the square farmyard;
(Butter and eggs and a pound of cheese.)
He last brewed of ale was "trifle hard."
The connection of which with the plot one sees.

The farmer's daughter hath frank blue eyes;
(Butter and eggs and a pound of cheese.)
She hears the rocks caw in the windy skies
As she sits at her lattice and shells her peas.

The farmer's daughter hath ripe red lips;
(Butter and eggs and a pound of cheese.)
If you try to approach her away she skips
Over tables and chairs with apparent ease.

The farmer's daughter hath soft brown hair;
(Butter and eggs and a pound of cheese.)
And I met with a ballad, I can't say where,
Which wholly consisted of lines like these.

PART II.
She sat with her hands 'neath her dimpled
cheeks,
(Butter and eggs and a pound of cheese.)
And spoke not a word. While a lady speaks
There is hope, but she didn't even sneeze.

She sat with her hands 'neath her crimson
cheeks,
(Butter and eggs and a pound of cheese.)
She gave up mending her father's breeks,
And let the cat roll in her best chemise.

She sat with her hands 'neath her burning
cheeks,
(Butter and eggs and a pound of cheese.)
And gazed at the piper for thirteen weeks;
Then she followed him out over the misty leas.

Her sheep followed her, as their tails did
(Butter and eggs and a pound of cheese.)
And this song is considered a perfect gem,
And as to the meaning, 'tis what you please.
